THE COUNCIL FOR TOBACCO RESEARCH – U.S.A., INC.

June 26, 1974

Grant application No. 987

CARDIOVASCULAR

To: The committee comprising Drs. Bing, Meier and Sommers

Subject: Vernon Riley, D. Sc., Pacific Northwest Research Foundation
New application No. 987
"A small Animal Model for the Study of Factors associated with Hypertension and Cardiovascular Disease".

Seattle Washington

History

An inquiry proposing studies of effects of stress on cardiovascular diseases and cancers in animals was handled as Case No. 153 late in 1972. Formal application was not encouraged.

In May 1974 Dr. Riley visited the CTR offices. Discussions suggested that his system might help evaluate the stress factor in smoking machine exposures. The enclosed application resulted.

Request

Application No. 987 requests $55,979 direct costs for a first year. Indirect costs are "to be negotiated". Support for at least one additional year is suggested.

Documents submitted

1-Letter to Dr. Gardner dated May 24, 1974.
2-Application dated 5/22/74 (arithmetic in budget subject to correction).

Comment

Enclosures are a copy of Dr. Gardner's commentary dated May 21, 1974.
